This 2011 Statistics of Income (SOI) estimated data line counts indicates the estimates of frequencies of the entries on the lines of the forms and schedules filed with individual tax returns as shown on the 2011 Individual SOI Complete Report weighted file. It is based on returns filed in Processing Year 2012 that were sampled statistically and then weighted to estimate the entire 2011 Tax Year.

Variations of the three basic forms: 1040, 1040A, and 1040EZ, include electronically filed returns. The form variations were categorized into the basic forms according to the data reported on the return. For example, if a return was filed electronically and its characteristics indicate that it would otherwise have been filed on paper as a 1040 or 1040A, and then it would be classified as such statistically.

2011 Complete Report estimates:

145,370,240	Total, all individual returns filed
84,189,061	1040 returns
38,598,005	1040A returns
22,583,173	1040EZ returns

Estimates of returns filed electronically:

118,920,586	Total, all individual returns filed
66,003,531	1040 returns
34,207,257	1040A returns
18,709,798	1040EZ returns

Limitations and Guidelines for The 2011 Data Line Counts

Since the line counts used in this package are obtained from the Tax Year 2011 Individual SOI Complete Report File, they are subject to the same limitations as the data that are included in the Complete Report File. These limitations are derived from the fact that these data are statistically sampled, meaning that the line counts included in this package are estimates based on samples, and should not be mistaken for actual counts of the entire population. While most forms and items are present often enough to provide accurate estimates, some less popular items should be used with a high degree of caution. All line items with a sample count fewer than 10 have been removed.

The sample used in this study is one of a large number of samples that could have been selected using the same sample design. The estimates calculated from these different samples would vary. The sample estimate and an estimate of its standard error permit the construction of interval estimates with prescribed confidence that the interval includes the population value. Shown below are 95 percent confidence intervals for selected Form 1040 items: (For example, the population value of number of returns for salaries and wages, with 95 percent confidence, is between 119,301,935 and 119,817,477). These confidence intervals correspond to the estimates for all Individual Income Tax Returns filed for Tax Year 2011.

Description of the Sample For the Estimated Data Line Counts

This section describes the sample design and selection, the method of estimation, the sampling variability of the estimates, and the methodology of computing confidence intervals.

Domain of Study

The statistics in this report are estimates from a probability sample of unaudited Individual Income Tax Returns, Forms 1040, 1040A, and 1040EZ (including electronic returns) filed by U.S. citizens and residents during Calendar Year 2012.

All returns processed during 2012 were subjected to sampling except tentative and amended returns. Tentative returns were not subjected to sampling because the revised returns may have been sampled later, while amended returns were excluded because the original returns had already been subjected to sampling. A small percentage of returns were not identified as tentative or amended until after sampling. These returns, along with those that contained no income information, were excluded in calculating estimates.

The estimates in this report are intended to represent all returns filed for Tax Year 2011. While most of the returns processed during Calendar Year 2012 were for Tax Year 2011, the remaining returns were mostly for prior years, and a few for non-calendar years ending during 2010 and 2011. Returns for prior years were used in place of 2011 returns received and processed after December 31, 2012. This was done based on the assumption that the characteristics of returns due, but not yet processed, can best be represented by the returns for previous income years that were processed in 2012.

Sample Design and Selection

The sample design is a stratified probability sample, in which the population of tax returns is classified into subpopulations, called strata, and a sample is randomly selected independently from each stratum. Strata are defined by:

1. Nontaxable (including no alternative minimum tax) with adjusted gross income or expanded income of $200,000 or more.
2. High business receipts of $50,000,000 or more.
3. Presence or absence of special Forms or Schedules (Form 2555, Form 1116, Form 1040 Schedule C, and Form 1040 Schedule F).
4. Indexed positive or negative income. Sixty variables are used to derive positive and negative incomes. These positive and negative income classes are deflated using the Chain-Type

Description of the Sample

Price Index for the Gross Domestic Product to represent a base year of 1991.

5. Potential usefulness of the return for tax policy modeling. Thirty-two variables are used to determine how useful the return is for tax modeling purposes.

Tax data processed to the IRS Individual Master File at the Enterprise Computing Center at Martinsburg during Calendar Year 2012 were used to assign each taxpayer's record to the appropriate stratum and to determine whether or not the record should be included in the sample. Records are selected for the sample either if they possess certain combinations of the four ending digits of the social security number, or if their ending five digits of an eleven-digit number generated by a mathematical transformation of the SSN is less than or equal to the stratum sampling rate times 100,000.

Data Capture and Cleaning

Data capture for the SOI sample begins with the designation of a sample of administrative records. While the sample was being selected, the process was continually monitored for sample selection and data collection errors. In addition, a small subsample of returns was selected and independently reviewed, analyzed, and processed for a quality evaluation.

The administrative data and controlling information for each record designated for this sample was loaded onto an online database at the Cincinnati Submission Processing Center. Computer data for the selected administrative records were then used to identify inconsistencies, questionable values, and missing values as well as any additional variables that an editor needed to extract for each record. The editors use a hardcopy of the taxpayer's return to enter the required information onto the online system.

After the completion of service center review, data were further validated, tested, and balanced. Adjustments and imputations for selected fields based on prior year data and other available information were used to make each record internally consistent. Finally, prior to publication, all statistics and tables were reviewed for accuracy and reasonableness in light of provisions of the tax law, taxpayer reporting variations and limitations, economic conditions, and comparability with other statistical series.

Some returns designated for the sample were not available for SOI processing because other areas of IRS needed the return at the same time. For Tax Year 2011, 0.024 percent of the sample returns were unavailable.

Method of Estimation

Weights were obtained by dividing the population count of returns in a stratum by the number of sample returns for that stratum. The weights were adjusted to correct for misclassified returns. These weights were applied to the sample data to produce all of the estimates in this report.
